

Tulsa U. Defeats Rangers, 17 to 7; Normal Champs Put Up Game but Losing Battle

Shine Martin's Defensive Work Is Brightest Feature; Renfro Knocked Out Early

Orange and Black Handicapped by Absence of Tom Williams, His Punting Being Missed; Visitors Not So Formidable as Touted, Lacking Smart Plays and Variety of Attack.

The big Orange and Black eleven of the Tulsa university showed the amount of class the occasion demanded yesterday and emerged victorious in its first hard gridiron battle of the year, scoring 17 points to the 7 made by the Rangers from Northwestern Normal of Alva.

While it was a game almost devoid of the spectacular, the closeness of the score and the hard battling of the lines made the contest highly interesting throughout. The stands at Lee Stadium were comfortably filled for the game.

Neither Team Shows Dash. Neither team was powerful on the attack. The defense of the Rangers in holding off the onslaught of the Tigers was a surprise, however.

From a Tulsa standpoint probably the brightest feature of the game was the great defensive work of "Shine" Martin. "Shine" was down on all punts with amazing speed. He seemed almost too fast, frequently averting his head.

Tulsa U. was handicapped to a great extent by the absence of Tom Williams, star punter, and by an injury to Renfro, their brilliant quarterback. Williams, who has been very chummy, was practically useless. He was in the game only for a few minutes. Renfro was knocked out early in the second period, being hurt by a tackle with terrific force after seeking a punt and slipping up the field with it. He stuck it out for a time after the fall, but it was apparent he was out on his feet for the rest of the lineup was necessitated.

Rangers a Disappointment. While the visiting Rangers put up a game battle and held hard and fast throughout, the offense of the players of 1921 did not come up to expectations. The Rangers did not show anything in the way of smart football. Their plays almost could be called with certainty in advance from the sidelines.

Neither does Coach Schmidt's squad seem to be improving as fast as it should. The offense appeared lacking in offensive plays, though this might be accounted for in a measure by the weather which was entirely too warm to put football players ready to their toes. With its weight it would seem the T. U. squad should be more successful in its attacks against a line of the caliber of the Rangers.

Grove and Wardland See Game. The game was "accounted" by Charlie Wardland, head coach of the Central Normal eleven at Edmond, and Ivan Grove, former coach and star who is coaching the Oklahoma Baptist team of Shawnee. Both of these teams later in the season will face the Orange and Black, the Central Normal being the next opponent to be met on the home field. The Central Tulsa U. game is scheduled for sometime late November 11, the T. U. team being away from home for the next three weeks. The Baptists will be opposed still later in the season.

Tulsa U. Scores First. Tulsa U. scored in the first quarter just two minutes before the end of the period. A strong south wind helped Tulsa keep the ball in Alva's territory all during the period, but it looked like a scoreless fifteen minutes until Kook and Renfro negotiated a successful forward pass and Renfro kicked the first score. Martin kicked a goal just before this succeeded Martin had missed a couple of attempts at field goals, the wind being responsible for the misses. While the other was quite a bit wild.

With the wind in their favor Alva kept the pigskin in the T. U. territory during most of the second period, and once it appeared certain the visitors would register a touchdown, but the Tulsa line held solidly and the half ended with Tulsa leading 7 to 0.

Rangers Count in Third Quarter. The Tulsa lead was increased to 10 to 0 when Martin kicked a field goal early in the third period, but the margin was not to last. Just two minutes later when Brown of the Rangers went across for the only Ranger touchdown after a four-way pass, Hambling kicked the ball against the Alva goal, and Kook went through center. Martin kicked goal, making the final score 17 to 7.

Thomas, guard and heavy guard, scored out from the rest of the Alva team.
